

Creating a trial Microsoft Azure account and activating MSDN benefits

What is Azure? In short, it's Microsoft's cloud platform: a growing collection of integrated services —compute, storage, data, networking, and apps— that help you move faster, do more, and save money. You can build infrastructure, develop modern applications, gain insights from data, manage identity and access and more.

In this lab you will create a free trial Microsoft Azure account, and you will activate the benefits available to MSDN subscribers.

This lab includes the following tasks:

1. Creating a trial Microsoft Azure Account
2. Activating MSDN benefits

Creating a trial Microsoft Azure Account

There are several ways to get an Azure subscription, such as the free trial subscription, the pay-as-you-go subscription, which has no minimums or commitments and you can cancel any time; Enterprise agreement subscriptions, or you can buy one from a Microsoft retailer. In this task you are going to create a free trial subscription.

1. Browse to the following page <http://azure.microsoft.com/en-us/pricing/free-trial/> to obtain a free trial account.
2. Click the Try it Now button.
3. Enter the credentials for the Microsoft account that you want to use. You will be redirected to the Sign up page.

Note: Some of the following sections could be omitted in the Sign up process, if you recently verified your Microsoft account.

4. Enter your personal information in the About you section. If you have previously loaded this info in your Microsoft Account, it will be automatically populated.

Activating MSDN benefits

If you happen to be an MSDN subscriber you can activate your Azure MSDN benefits. It is no charge, you can use your MSDN software in the cloud, and most importantly you get up to $150 in Azure credits every month. You can also get 33% discount in Virtual Machines and much more.

1. To active the MSDN benefits, browse to the following URL: <http://azure.microsoft.com/en-us/pricing/member-offers/msdn-benefits-details/>
2. Scroll down to see the full list of benefits you will get for being a MSDN member. There is even a FAQ section you can read.
3. Click the Activate button to activate the benefits.
